CITY ITEMS.

Buy feed at Duval's 309, Franklin.

Go to the Silver Moon and call for what you want.

The remains of Gen'l Sheridan have arrived at Washington and the funeral services will take place to-morrow at 10 a. m.

Hay, oats and bran at Duval's 309, Franklin.

If you want fruit cans or glass jars for canning go to Barney Feldhake's.

Rain fell yesterday in several parts of the county and in good showers about China Springs and on Hog Creek.

Banana cider and all choice fountain drinks at Joe. Lehman's.

One of the nicest and quietest places at which to drink is the Cotton Exchange.

Two large sea birds or cranes, white as the driven snow, sailed over the city this forenoon with tail feathers pointing northward.

A choice cuisine at Joe. Lehman's restaurant; the leading restaurant.

The Silver Moon is always open and will give you prompt attention.

The genial and hospitable, Mr. Darwin, gathered a fine batch of vagrants yesterday, eight in all, and all of the female sex, and took them down to his farm.

You will save money by patronizing the Silver Moon restaurant.

Eat your ice cream at Joe. Lehman's ice cream parlor.

The annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers and firemen of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, will be held in Tyler the 15th and 16th proximo.

Rarest old whiskey for chill and fever bitters at Palace saloon.

When you want a refreshing drink of ice cold beer go to Bismark's.

Master Willie Searcy was bitten by his dog a day or two ago and yesterday the dog exhibited curious symptoms resembling hydrophobia. It was shot this morning by Mr. Clarence Hill.

Go to your Uncle Duff, the pawnbroker, opposite the McLelland hotel, if you need any money or want to spend any.

The Waco Red Stockings went to Tyler yesterday evening to play a match game of ball with the Tyler club to-day. The Reds go from there to Denison and will play the Gate City nine on Sunday next.

Mr. John D. Mayfield, secretary of the Texas Savings Loan Association, says it is easy for Waco people to obtain homes. Property is cheap and he will furnish three-fourths the money needed in any purchase. Small monthly payments.

One of the Herz boys, last evening, made thirty or forty cents on one copy of a paper containing the drawing of the Louisiana Lottery. He would sell it to one who would look at it a moment for the number of his ticket and hand it back, and thus sold it over and over a number of times.

The agitation of last evening over the drawing of the Louisiana Lottery, full returns of which came in on the evening Missouri Pacific train, was intense. Copies of the New Orleans Times Democrat were gobbled up at once. In thirty minutes after the Missouri train got in, the lucky numbers of the Louisiana Lottery, held in Waco, were in type and in the forms of this paper.

Union Sunday school concerts are now fairly established as part of Sunday exercises. They are taking part in by all the Sunday schools of the city and conducted by the superintendents. The exercises consist, mainly, of singing and short talks and are especially interesting to the children. Last Sunday the Union concert was held at the Fifth street M. E. church, and this coming Sunday will be at the Christian church, Eleventh and Washington streets. The time is 5 o'clock p. m. All Sunday schools are earnestly invited to take part.

One of the attaches of this office held ticket No. 52,201 in the Lottery. Ticket number 52,200 drew a prize. As he recognized his narrow escape he rose from his chair and paced the floor muttering several names, among which the most conspicuous were those usually spelled with dashes, till he was sternly reproved by our religious young man and forced to subside.

The artesian well is to be abandoned and a new one to be dug. The huge derrick is being removed to-day and work on the new well will be begun at once. Meanwhile the old well has been piped to the depth of a thousand feet, and is now running a three-quarter inch stream of fine mineral water, similar to the Hanna wells. Mr. Moore will have the water analysed.

The Avenue meat market is one of the neatest and cleanest places in the city, and Mr. Webb the prince of butchers. New repairs are being made in the house which will make it as daisy as an ice cream parlor. When they are completed steaks and roasts will touch nothing but pure marble slabs. There are no flies on the meat in the Avenue market, and the country is ransacked to find the fattest and tenderest animals for its customers.

The Waco Installment Company can satisfy any one who needs furniture. They will either rent furniture or sell it on installments so low that any one can pay for it. They have a fine large stock of all sorts of furniture and they sell very cheap. Don't purchase elsewhere until you have given them a call. They move and pack furniture cheaply. Prather Block Austin street.

The toniest barber shop in town is that of Jeff Williams, the old "O. K." stand, Austin street, near the square. He has four tonsorial artists unsurpassed in the state, and a nice cool room. Everything kept nice and in the best of order.

In Justice Sleeper's court this morning Anderson, Wilson and George Jones pleaded guilty to shooting craps and were fined $10 each and Horace Hooper confessed to indulging in a fuss and was fined one dollar.

The finest beef, mutton, veal, and fish are always to be found at J. C. Crippen's market, corner Fifth and Franklin.

There is a sudden scarcity of eggs in the market. They were retailing this morning at 20 cents per dozen.

Joe Thompson has some of the prettiest comb honey in one and two pound boxes, just received.

Business Notice.

I will continue the business conducted by my husband J. E. Sears, deceased at the same location, and solicit the patronage given him. Mr. Cravens an expert pharmacist and druggist who has been in my husband's employment nearly two years will continue at the head of the prescription department.

CLARA SEARS.

Better Than a Pen Wiper. On the sergeant's desk in the Twenty-third sub-prosecutor police station, at the Grand Central station, an excessively inky potato is always to be found.

"It makes a new pen as good as old and an old one as good as new," says Sergt. Haradon, and when his pen troubles him in any way as he tries to write he jabs it into the tuber. He claims that it is the sovereign remedy. It takes off a brand new steel gloss in a jiffy, and in an equally satisfactory way it eats off the rusted and corroded surface of a pen long in use.—New York Evening World.

A Seat in the House.

The seats in the house of representatives are drawn by lot at the beginning of the session. The first man whose name is called takes his choice, and so on. But a member can get a particular seat in this way: He enlists the help of a page, or if the page is too youthful looking he gets some doorkeeper or other attaché of the hall to fill the desired chair. The luckier congressman does not notice that the good seat is not really drawn, the more experienced one, however, goes and takes it when his name is called.—New York Press.

Destruction of Antiquities.

Owing to the stringent law against selling antiquities in Greece, many objects are broken when found by peasants or thrown into the sea. A similar move in Egypt under Said Pasha produced similar results. A new decree makes it unlawful to deal in antiquities, and will make the Arabs who find tombs and scattered antiquities yet more secretive, and lead them to destroy objects rather than allow their existence to be known.—Boston Budget.

Could Shake Hands All Day.

"Hello, Jake, what are you doing here?" said a well dressed man to a gateman in the New York entrance of the Brooklyn bridge during the homeward rush last night. "I thought you were still in politics."

"So I am," was the reply: "I am practicing for the presidency, and he worked the handle of the ticket chopper up and down with renewed vigor.—New York Sun.

American Workmen's Clothes.

A correspondent writes us: "The English travelers' talk about the rugged and dirty clothes which American workmen wear reminds me of the advice my father used to give me: 'Don't wear your best clothes every day; if you do you will soon have no best clothes to wear.' The Englishman had not been properly instructed in clothes wearing."—Boston Transcript.

Bug Proof Fences.

A Kansas man told me recently that an ingenious individual in southern Kansas had invented a fence to keep out chinch bugs. He takes a strip of flooring and sets it on the ground with the groove side up. In the groove he puts candle wick and saturates it with coal oil. The chinch bug, when it crawls up the side of the board and gets a sniff of the kerosene, retreats in disgust.—Lima Republican.
